

Archaos are welcomed to Leith like old friends; meanwhile producer Adrian Evans reports harrowing meetings with Lambeth Council in London who are fighting tooth and claw to prevent him bringing the circus south. Insurance rates for the company have risen 1,5000 percent since last year, Evans says. "This is the last year we play in Britain."

The Guardian. 13 Aug 1991